GRADUATE STUDENT PRESENTATION PRIZE 2014
PRIX POUR LA MEILLEURE COMMUNICATION ÉTUDIANTE 2014

From Bonnie MacLachlan

In 2010 the CAC instituted a prize of $100 for the best paper presented at the annual meetings by a graduate student.

This year at the meeting in Montreal there were four finalists: Adriana Brook (University of Toronto), Germain Payen (Université Laval), Jessica Romney (University of Bristol) and Matthew Watton (Western University). Graduate students who elected to compete submitted their papers in advance of the conference, and members of the CAC Awards Committee adjudicated both the content and the presentation of the papers.

This year's winner was Adriana Brook, whose paper was entitled "Ritual Structure, Narrative Structure: The Poetics of Progression in Sophocles' Ajax".

UNDERGRADUATE ESSAY COMPETITION 2014
CONCOURS DE DISSERTATIONS DE PREMIER CYCLE, 2014

From Christer Bruun

Student papers are now being solicited for the 2014 Undergraduate Essay Competition at both the Junior and Senior levels, with cash prizes of $150, $100 and $50. The deadline is August 31st. Please follow this link.

[2] CCB Announcements / Annonces du BCÉA

From the Editor / Du rédacteur

~ I ~

At the bottom of this issue you will find a few pictures from the AGM, graciously provided by Hans Beck.

Il y aura d'autres nouvelles du congrès dans le prochain numéro régulier du BCÉA, une fois que le site web aura été mis à jour.

~ II ~

It is an important duty of the CAC to pay homage to deceased colleagues. I would therefore appreciate if you informed me of the passing of any (former) colleague as soon as possible. Links to obituaries are also welcome, as well as any supplementary information about his/her accomplishments as a teacher and scholar (since such information is usually missing from general obituaries). I have had to supplement several obituaries in the past four years, and even wrote one from scratches, which can be quite time consuming in the case of scholars I knew little or not at all.

I thank you in advance for your assistance in this matter.

~ III ~

I'll be out of the country by June 15th, when the next regular issue should normally be posted. Please send me your announcements by the 9th at the very latest; I'll produce an early issue on June 9th or 10th.

UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO
DEPARTMENT OF CLASSICS
ONE-YEAR CONTRACTUALLY LIMITED TERM APPOINTMENT

From Christer Bruun

The Department of Classics at the University of Toronto invites applications for a one-year Contractually Limited Term Appointment at the rank of Assistant Professor, beginning August 1, 2014 and ending July 31, 2015.

The successful candidate will be expected to teach courses in the undergraduate language programs in Greek and Latin, as well as courses in the classical civilization program, and maintain an active research program.

Applicants should have a PhD degree by date of appointment or shortly thereafter. An excellent record of scholarly research and demonstrated excellence in teaching Classics courses at the undergraduate level are required. Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

The deadline for applications is May 30, 2014.

All qualified candidates are invited to apply by clicking on the link below. Applications should include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, evidence of excellence in teaching (including a statement of teaching philosophy), and a short description of the applicant's current research plans, and a sample of academic writing. All application materials should be submitted online.

Submission guidelines can be found at http://uoft.me/how-to-apply. We recommend combining documents into one or two files in PDF/MS Word format.

Applicants should also ask three referees to send letters directly to Professor Christer Bruun, Chair, Dept. of Classics, University of Toronto, at chair.classics@utoronto.ca by the closing date, May 30, 2014.

The University of Toronto is strongly committed to diversity within its community and especially welcomes applications from visible minority group members, women, Aboriginal persons, persons with disabilities, members of sexual minority groups, and others who may contribute to the further diversification of ideas. All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadian citizens and permanent residents will be given priority.

Any enquiries concerning application should be directed to: chair.classics@utoronto.ca.

QUEEN'S UNIVERSITY
DEPARTMENT OF CLASSICS
INTRODUCTORY LATIN OR INTRODUCTORY GREEK

From Mary Smida

The Department of Classics at Queen's University invites applications from suitably qualified candidates interested in teaching a course in either Introductory Latin or Introductory Greek, fall and winter terms (1.0 credits/6 units). LATN 110 is an on-campus, introductory lecture language course with an expected enrolment of approximately 90 students. GREK 112 is an on-campus, introductory lecture language course with an expected enrolment of approximately 50 students. Candidates should have a Ph.D or be near completion of Doctoral Studies, and have teaching experience at the University level in Classics. This is a fall/winter term appointment for the period September 1, 2014 to April 30, 2015, with classes in session from September 8, 2014 to April 3, 2015.

The University invites applications from all qualified individuals. Queen's University is committed to employment equity and diversity in the workplace and welcomes applications from women, visible minorities, aboriginal people, persons with disabilities, and persons of any sexual orientation or gender identity. All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority.

The University will provide support in its recruitment processes to applicants with disabilities, including accommodation that takes into account an applicant's accessibility needs. If you require accommodation during the interview process, please contact: Mary Smida at classics@queensu.ca or 613-533-2745.

The academic staff at Queen's University are governed by the Collective Agreement between the Queen's University Faculty Association (QUFA) and the University, which is posted here.

A candidate qualified to teach may be considered for appointment to a Term Adjunct position as defined by the Collective Agreement for All Faculty, Librarians and Archivist between QUFA and Queen's University. Remuneration will be in accordance with the Collective Agreement, and appointments are subject to funding or enrolment criteria. If a graduate student is teaching a course in a different discipline than they are registered, then they would be eligible for appointment as a Term Adjunct.

Applications should include a complete and current curriculum vitae, letters of reference from two (2) referees, and any other relevant materials the candidate wishes to submit for consideration such as a letter of intent, teaching dossier, etc. Please arrange to have applications and supporting letters sent directly to:

Dr. Anne Foley, Head
Department of Classics
Queen's University
Kingston Ontario Canada K7L 3N6

Applications will be received until May 28, 2014. Review of applications will commence shortly thereafter. Please follow this link for additional information about the Department of Classics.
