This is the formal call for papers for the Annual Conference of the Classical Association of Canada. The organizers of the conference welcome abstracts of a maximum of 300 words on any classical topic. The deadline for all submissions is January 15, 2018.

For individual presenters, please include your name and the term “abstract CAC 2018” in the subject heading. In the body of the letter, include your full name, affiliation, contact information and paper title. Do not include your name in the abstract but please make sure that the title of the paper on the abstract and the title on the cover letter are the same.

Finally, graduate students should include a letter of support from their supervisors along with the abstract.

Le comité organisateur du prochain Congrès annuel de la SCÉC lance une invitation formelle aux membres à soumettre leurs propositions de communication sur tout sujet concernant l'antiquité classique. Les propositions ne doivent pas dépasser 300 mots et devront parvenir aux organisateurs au plus tard le 15 janvier 2018.

Veuillez envoyer votre proposition en format Word à l'adresse cac.scec2018@gmail.com. Pour une présentation individuelle, prière d'indiquer votre nom suivi de « proposition SCEC 2018 » dans l'objet du message. Dans le corps du message, indiquez votre nom complet, votre affiliation, vos coordonnées et le titre de votre communication. Nous vous prions de ne pas inscrire votre nom sur la proposition de communication. Pour éviter toute erreur d'identification, assurez-vous que le titre de votre communication soit identique à celui inscrit dans le corps du message.

Les propositions de sessions thématiques (« panels ») sont aussi les bienvenues. Elles devraient consister en trois ou quatre communications. L'organisateur d'une session thématique devrait soumettre toutes ses propositions de communication en bloc avec une brève description du thème de la session.

Les étudiants aux cycles supérieurs doivent joindre à leur proposition une lettre de recommandation de leur directeur de recherche.

Le paiement des frais d'inscription au congrès et au banquet pourront être effectués à partir de janvier 2018; la procédure à suivre sera communiquée prochainement. Le paiement servira de preuve d'inscription.

CALL FOR PAPERS – WOMEN'S NETWORK PANELS – CALGARY 2018 APPEL À COMMUNICATIONS– SÉANCES DU RÉSEAU DES FEMMES – CALGARY 2018

From Lisa Hughes

Representations of Widows and Divorcées in Ancient Greece and Rome

The Women's Network / Réseau des Femmes of the CAC / SCÉC invites submissions for two panels:

1. Representations of Widows and Divorcées in Ancient Greece and Rome

Submissions may include, but are not limited to, explorations of the status and roles of single women, of the social and economic implications of widowhood and divorce as represented in Greco-Roman art, literature, historiography, or rhetoric.

2. Teaching Women in Antiquity

Submissions may include, but are not limited to course and syllabus development, social media, teaching sensitive subjects, and feminist pedagogy.

We warmly encourage all scholars and graduate students who are interested in these topics to apply. The Women's Network is a loose-knit group of scholars and students who are interested in the advancement of scholarship on ancient gender, and support women's academic careers in Classical Studies. The requirements for participation are 1) membership in the CAC and 2) graduate students should include letters of support from their supervisors along with the abstracts.

Please submit abstracts of 300 words with relevant bibliography by Monday, January 15th, 2018 to Lisa Hughes, Women's Network Secretary (lahughes@ucalgary.ca) and to the conference email address (cac.scec2018@gmail.com). Please indicate in the cover letter whether you would like to have your abstract considered for the regular sessions, if it is not included in the Women's Network panel.

Le Réseau des Femmes / Women's Network de la SCÉC/CAC lance deux appels à contributions pour le prochain congrès:

1. Représentations des veuves et des divorcées dans la Grèce antique et Rome

Nous invitons les soumissions de contributions qui explorent, par exemple, le statut et le rôle de la femme célibataire, les implications sociales et économiques du veuvage et du divorce tels que représentés dans l'art, la littérature, l'historiographie ou la rhétorique gréco-romaine.

2. Approches aux méthodes d'enseignement des femmes dans l'Antiquité

Nous invitons les soumissions de contributions qui explorent, par exemple, le développement de cours, les médias sociaux, l'enseignement des matières sensibles et la pédagogie féministe.

Nous encourageons vivement les chercheur(e)s et étudiant(e)s à soumettre une proposition de communication. Le

Réseau des Femmes est un groupe de chercheurs et étudiantes qui s'intéressent à la promotion de la recherche sur le genre dans l'Antiquité et qui soutiennent les femmes qui font ou veulent faire carrière en études classiques. Les conditions de participation sont (1) l'adhésion à la SCÉC et (2) la soumission d'une lettre de recommandation du directeur/de la directrice de recherche par les étudiant(e)s aux cycles supérieurs.

Faire parvenir votre résumé de 300 mots accompagné d'une bibliographie à Lisa Hughes, secrétaire du Réseau (lahughes@ucalgary.ca) et au comité organisateur (cac.scec2018@gmail.com) au plus tard le 15 janvier 2018. Dans la lettre d'accompagnement, prière d'indiquer si vous souhaitez que votre proposition soit considérée pour une session régulière au cas où elle ne serait pas retenue pour la séance du Réseau.

THE MARY WHITE PRIZE FOR BEST ARTICLE IN PHOENIX FOR 2016
PRIX MARY-WHITE RÉCOMPENSANT LE MEILLEUR ARTICLE PUBLIÉ PAR PHOENIX EN 2016

From Ben Akrigg

The winner of the Mary White Prize for Best Article in Phoenix for 2016 (for 70.1-2 & 70.3-4, 2016) is:

Jeremy Swist, University of Iowa, for his paper “Pagan Altars and Monarchic Discourse in Libanius Declamation 22” (Phoenix 70.1-2, 170-189).

Commendation:

By considering how Libanius, in writing about a fictionalised version of late Classical Athenian history through the persona of Demosthenes, tried to present an example of effective leadership to the emperor Theodosius, Swist has provided an important reflection on an eminently timely topic, namely representations of power in turbulent times. Engaging deeply with the vastly different historical periods of fourth-century BCE Athens and the eastern Roman world in the fourth century CE, Swist demonstrates that late antique rhetorical genres need not be considered unimaginative and uninspiring literary enterprises. Reacting to scholarship that has downplayed the degree to which non-Christians opposed the religious changes they witnessed, Swist offers a clever and convincing argument about how the anti-Christian Libanius carefully presented his case to a Christian ruler.

Judges for this year’s prize, who were chosen from the Editorial Board of Phoenix, were:

John Harris (University of Alberta; committee chair)

Matthew Sears (University of New Brunswick)

Conor Whately (University of Winnipeg)

Le gagnant du Prix Mary White pour le meilleur article publié par Phoenix en 2016 est Jeremy Swist (University of Iowa) pour son article intitulé « Pagan Altars and Monarchic Discourse in Libanius Declamation 22 » (Phoenix 70.1-2, 170-189).

En étudiant comment Libanius a voulu présenter à l’empereur Théodose un exemple de leadership efficace avec le personnage de Démosthène, dans une version fictionnalisée de l’histoire athénienne classique tardive, Swist a fourni une réflexion importante sur un sujet éminemment opportun, à savoir les représentations de la puissance en période de trouble. Swist aborde les périodes historiquement très différentes de l’Athènes du IV<sup>e</sup> siècle avant J.-C. et du monde romain oriental au IV<sup>e</sup> siècle de notre ère, et démontre que les genres rhétoriques de l’antiquité tardive ne doivent pas être considérés comme des entreprises littéraires dépourvues d’imagination et d’inspiration. En réaction aux travaux qui ont minimisé le degré auquel non-chrétiens s’opposèrent aux changements religieux dont ils furent témoins, Swist offre un argumentaire intelligent et convaincant quant au soin avec lequel Libanius, malgré son anti-christianisme, a présenté son modèle à un souverain chrétien.

Les membres du jury, choisis parmi le comité de rédaction de la revue, étaient :

John Harris (University of Alberta; président du comité)

Matthew Sears (University of New Brunswick)

Conor Whately (University of Winnipeg)

[2] CCB Announcements / Annonces du BCÉA

ANNOUNCEMENTS FROM THE EDITOR QUELQUES MOTS DU RÉDACTEUR

1. Well, it sure took a long time to produce this new issue, the first in 2017/18, but here it is! I am already working on a supplementary issue that will give you the schedule of the Atlantic, Central, and Western Lecture Tours. An announcement will also be inserted about the CIG, but in the meantime you can visit their website for the latest news.
  2. I recently undertook a major revision of my CCB subscribers' list, but the work is not yet completed. As it stands, the list is at almost a thousand names, but it is likely that many subscribers' email addresses are "dead" – I'm thinking especially of the M.A. students who joined five, six, seven years ago and moved on since then. I will address this issue in coming weeks and will keep you updated to make sure that no-one is removed against their wishes. You may have noticed, too, that I have now inserted an UNSUBSCRIBE link in the email I sent you with the link to this issue. Everyone is welcome to stay on the list, of course, but I would rather remove your name if you don't wish to receive the Bulletin any longer.
  3. I have done some work this summer to update the website. Though much remains to be done, you can consult this page if you need to contact anyone on the Executive or Council. As in previous years, too, a page was created for the next Conference which will be updated until May as information becomes available. I am aware that some other pages need to be updated. In forthcoming issues I'll provide more links to updated pages.
- :::::::::::::::::::

1. Cette première livraison du Bulletin en 2017/18 vous parvient après un long délai et je m'en excuse. Je suis déjà en train de préparer un numéro supplémentaire qui comprendra, entre autres, l'horaire des tournées de conférences dans les provinces atlantiques et dans le centre et l'ouest du pays. Une annonce sur l'Institut canadien en Grèce y sera aussi insérée, mais entre temps vous pouvez toujours consulter le site de l'Institut pour les dernières nouvelles.
  2. Dans les derniers jours j'ai entrepris une révision en profondeur de ma liste d'abonnés au BCEA, mais il reste du travail à faire. Au moment d'écrire ces lignes, les abonnés sont près d'un millier, mais il est inévitable qu'un certain nombre d'adresses soient désuètes – je pense surtout aux adresses des étudiants à la maîtrise qui ont été ajoutées il y a de cela parfois cinq ou six ans, ou même plus. Cette situation sera confrontée dans les semaines à venir. En outre, vous aurez certainement remarqué qu'un ligne "SE DÉSABONNER" a été insérée dans le message que vous avez reçu avec le lien à ce bulletin. Je serais heureux de garder les noms de tous sur la liste, mais si vous ne désirez plus recevoir le Bulletin, faites-moi savoir!
  3. Au cours de l'été j'ai fait quelques mises à jour du site Internet de la Société. Il reste beaucoup à faire mais vous pouvez déjà consulter cette page si vous désirez entrer en contact avec les membres de l'exécutif ou du conseil. Comme dans les années précédentes, une page a été créée pour le prochain congrès de la Société. Cette page sera mise à jour jusqu'en mai à mesure que les informations seront disponibles.

[4] Conferences & Lectures; Calls for Papers / Conférences; appels à communications

CFP: CONFERENCE 24-26 MAY 2018, BANFF, ALBERTA
GREEK AND ROMAN PASTS IN THE LONG SECOND CENTURY
THE INTELLECTUAL CLIMATE OF CASSIUS DIO

From Adam Kemezis and Colin Bailey

La version française suit

The Cassius Dio Network (2016-18) has combined historiographical, literary, and rhetorical analyses of Cassius Dio's career and works to demonstrate that he was both an active, successful politician and an intellectually sophisticated historian and author. The Network has organized several conferences and seminars in the last two years, including "Cassius Dio the Historian: Methods and Approaches" (Odense, December 2016) and "Cassius Dio and Civil War" (Aalborg, October 2017).

The Network will host, as the final event of this series, a conference in May 2018 in Banff, Alberta, Canada. Focussing on Dio's literary characteristics and cultural context, the conference will situate Dio's work at the intersection and culmination of a series of traditions and practices, including Thucydidean political historiography, the Roman annalistic and senatorial historical traditions and the many components of the Second Sophistic. We invite scholars at all levels to submit abstracts for the conference on any topics relating to Dio Cassius' thought, literary techniques, rhetorical agendas, generic identity, political views, or intellectual milieu. We welcome abstracts that, while not focussing primarily on Dio's text, illuminate the background from which his work emerged. Papers may be delivered in either English or French.

Topics may include, but are not limited to:

- Dio and his Classical/Atticist predecessors
- Plutarch, Appian, Arrian
- Greek civic life in the long second century
- Past and present in the High Empire
- Greek and Roman identities under the Empire
- Greeks and the senate
- 2c-3c views of imperialism and expansion
- "Crisis and decline" in the 3c AD?

- Antonine-Severan dynastic change and continuity
- Dio as reader of Tacitus/Suetonius
- Latin or Greek as the empire's literary language?
- Belles-lettres and political critique

The confirmed keynote speaker is David S. Potter, Francis W. Kelsey Collegiate Professor of Greek and Roman History, Arthur F. Thurnau Professor of Greek and Latin, University of Michigan.

Abstracts of c.250 words should be submitted to Colin Bailey (baileyc26@macewan.ca) and Adam Kemezis (kemezis@ualberta.ca) by 30 September 2017.

Banff is a mountain resort in the Canadian Rockies offering spectacular scenery and first-class outdoor recreation opportunities. The Network undertakes to pay accommodation for its members: depending on funding applications, we hope also to provide plane fare for members and partial travel reimbursements for non-members.

All are encouraged to submit abstracts, with the understanding that funding circumstances may compel some to withdraw or attend remotely. A registration fee of C$120 (C$60 for network members and students) will include breakfast, lunch and coffee breaks on site. As with previous network events, we intend to assemble a conference volume to be considered for Brill's Historiography of Rome and its Empire series.

This conference is hosted jointly by MacEwan University and the University of Alberta. The network is a joint venture between the University of Southern Denmark, Aarhus University and Aalborg University, in cooperation with University of Alberta, MacEwan University and Georgetown University. The Network is funded by The Danish Council for Independent Research (DFF), Humanities (FKK), in addition to the participating universities.

Le Réseau "Cassius Dion (2016-2018)" a combiné les analyses historiographique, littéraire et rhétorique de la vie et des œuvres de Cassius Dion afin de montrer qu'il était à la fois un politicien prospère et un auteur sophistiqué et subtil. Au cours des deux dernières années, le Réseau a organisé plusieurs congrès et colloques, y compris "Cassius Dio the Historian: Methods and Approaches" (Odense, décembre 2016) et "Cassius Dio and Civil War" (Aalborg, octobre 2017).

Le Réseau organisera le congrès final de cette série à Banff, en Alberta (Canada) du 26 au 28 mai 2018. En se concentrant sur les caractéristiques littéraires et le contexte culturel de Dio, le congrès examinera les œuvres de Dio à l'intersection de la seconde sophistique et les traditions historiographiques (par exemple, l'historiographie politique de Thucydide, les traditions annalistiques des historiens romains). Nous invitons des propositions de communication portant sur tous les sujets concernant les techniques littéraires, le programme rhétorique, l'identité culturelle, les opinions politiques ou le milieu intellectuel de Cassius Dion. Nous accueillons également les propositions qui étudient le contexte culturel à partir duquel ses œuvres ont émergé. Les communications peuvent être présentées en français ou en anglais.

Les sujets peuvent inclure, mais ne sont pas limités à:

- Dion et ses prédécesseurs classiques/atticistes
- Plutarque, Appien, Arrien
- La vie civique grecque dans le long deuxième siècle
- Passé et présent dans le Haut-Empire
- Les identités grecques et romaines dans l'Empire
- Les Grecs et les sénateurs
- Perceptions de l'impérialisme et l'expansion
- Crise et déclin dans le troisième siècle
- Changement et continuité des Antonins aux Sévères
- Dion lecteur de Tacite et Suétone
- Littérature dans l'Empire romain : grecque ou latine?
- Belles-lettres et la critique politique

Le conférencier invité confirmé est David S. Potter, Francis W. Kelsey Collegiate Professor of Greek and Roman History, Arthur F. Thurnau Professor of Greek and Latin, University of Michigan.

Veuillez envoyer votre proposition à Colin Bailey (baileyc26@macewan.ca) et Adam Kemezis (kemezis@ualberta.ca) avant le 30 septembre 2017.

Le parc national Banff (au sud-ouest de l'Alberta) est l'un des parcs nationaux les plus populaires du Canada avec un ensemble de vallées, montagnes, glaciers, forêts, prés et rivières. Le Réseau payera les chambres d'hôtel à Buffalo Mountain Lodge pour les membres du Réseau. Le remboursement des frais de voyages pour les membres et remboursement partiel pour les non-membres dépendra du résultat de la demande de subvention au CRSH.

Nous invitons chercheurs et étudiants aux cycles supérieurs à soumettre des propositions. Les frais d'inscription (membres du Réseau : 60 $ CA; non-membres : 120 $ CA) incluent le petit déjeuner, le déjeuner et les pauses-café. Nous avons l'intention de rassembler les actes du congrès et les proposer pour publication à la série Historiography of Rome and its Empire de Brill.

Ce congrès est organisé par l'Université de l'Alberta et l'Université MacEwan. Le Réseau de Cassius Dion est une entreprise coopérative de l'Université du Southern Denmark, l'Université d'Aarhus et l'Université d'Aalborg, en coopération avec l'Université de Georgetown, l'Université de l'Alberta et l'Université MacEwan. Le Réseau est financé par le Danish Council for Independent Research (DFF), Humanities (FKK) et les universités participantes.

NEW BOOKS / NOUVEAUX LIVRES

From Paul Murgatroyd

Routledge have just published Ovid's Heroides A New Translation and Critical Essays by Paul Murgatroyd, Sarah Parker and Bridget Reeves. It contains a reliable and readable translation of all 21 Heroides, introductions explaining the mythological background, essays of appreciation and a glossary. It is aimed at Classical Civilization students taking courses in ancient women, myth and Ovid.

From Kyle Gervais

The Department of Classical Studies at the University of Western Ontario announces three recent publications:

Kyle Gervais, Statius, Thebaid 2: Edited with an Introduction, Translation, and Commentary (Oxford U Press 2017). This book represents the first full-length scholarly commentary in English on Statius' Thebaid 2. An extensive introduction covers the poem's historical, textual, and literary contexts, with particular attention to Statius' adaptation of prior literary tradition and especially the epics of Homer, Virgil, Ovid, Lucan, Valerius Flaccus, and Silius Italicus. The Latin text, accompanied by a translation and apparatus criticus, is newly edited to take advantage of the recent editorial work on the poem by Hall, Ritchie, and Edwards and is supplemented by a line-by-line commentary which addresses a range of textual, linguistic, and literary topics.

Randall J. Pogorzelski, Virgil and Joyce: Nationalism and Imperialism in the Aeneid and Ulysses (U of Wisconsin Press 2016).

James Joyce's Ulysses is a modern version of Homer's Odyssey, but Joyce—who was a better scholar of Latin than of Greek—also was deeply influenced by the Aeneid. Joyce wrote Ulysses during the Irish War of Independence, when militants, politicians, and intellectuals were attempting to create a new Irish nation. Virgil wrote the Aeneid when, in the wake of decades of civil war, Augustus was founding what we now call the Roman Empire. This book applies modern theories of nationalism, intertextuality, and reception studies to illuminate how both writers confronted issues of nationalism, colonialism, political violence, and freedom during times of crisis.

Charles H. Stocking, The Politics of Sacrifice in Early Greek Myth and Poetry (Cambridge U Press 2017).

This book offers a new interpretation of ancient Greek sacrifice from a cultural poetic perspective. Through close readings of the Theogony, the Homeric Hymn to Demeter, the Homeric Hymn to Hermes, and the Odyssey in conjunction with evidence from material culture, it demonstrates how sacrifice narratives in early Greek hexameter poetry are intimately connected to a mythic-poetic discourse referred to as the 'politics of the belly'. This mythic-poetic discourse presents sacrifice as a site of symbolic conflict between the male stomach and female womb for both mortals and immortals. Ultimately, the book argues that the ritual of sacrifice operates as a cultural mechanism for the perpetuation of patriarchal ideology not just in early Greek hexameter, but throughout Greek cultural history.

YORK UNIVERSITY INTERMEDIATE GREEK READER PROJECT

From Rob Tordoff

The York University Intermediate Greek Reader Project is (to my knowledge) the first thing of its kind in the world. The utility of the project and its claim to innovation rest in the fact that it is freely available online and that it is written by students for students.

For just over a year, my senior undergraduates at York have been earning part of their course credit for writing commentaries on ancient Greek texts. The commentaries are directed towards an intermediate (i.e. 2nd year or 2000-level) readership (i.e. the stage at which senior Greek students recently were).

The texts come complete with all the vocabulary that senior Greek students judge intermediate readers will need to translate the text and a basic commentary for tackling syntactical issues.

I hope readers of the Bulletin at other Canadian universities will find the project interesting and perhaps even use the texts in their classrooms.
