PRIZE FOR THE BEST PhD DISSERTATION PRIX POUR LA MEILLEURE THÈSE DE DOCTORAT

From / De Allison Glazebrook

Le français suit l'anglais

The Classical Association of Canada is pleased to announce the fifth competition for the CAC Prize for the Best PhD Dissertation by a member of the CAC/SCEC in Classics, Ancient History, Classical Archaeology, or Ancient Philosophy accepted for a doctoral degree at a Canadian university.

The prize is awarded biennially at the Annual Meeting of the Association for an outstanding dissertation in Classics, Ancient History, Classical Archaeology, or Ancient Philosophy written by a paid-up member of the CAC/SCÉC and accepted for a doctoral degree at a Canadian university. The fifth award will be made in May 2021, in Victoria, at the Association's Annual Meeting. This will recognize the best dissertation accepted during the period 1 July 2018 to 30 June 2020. The value of the prize is $500.

DEPARTMENTS SHOULD SEND NOMINATIONS TO THE CHAIR OF THE CAC/SCÉC DOCTORAL DISSERTATION PRIZE COMMITTEE

Professor Allison Glazebrook

aglazebrook@brocku.ca

by December 31, 2020

Each nomination must include the following:

1. an electronic copy of the dissertation in PDF format;
2. a letter from the university's Faculty of Graduate Studies attesting that the dissertation was accepted for the doctoral degree during the period under consideration;
3. a letter of nomination from the Department Head, Chair, or Graduate Programme Director, explaining the specific merits and originality of the dissertation. Where a department submits more than one dissertation, the Department Head, Chair, or Graduate Programme Director should forward a separate memorandum addressing the relative merits of the various submissions.

The adjudication committee consists of five members: the immediate Past President (as Chair of the committee), one other member of Council (co-opted by the Past President), and three members-at-large of the Association.

La Société canadienne des Études classiques (SCEC/CAC) est heureuse d'annoncer la cinquième édition du prix pour la meilleure thèse de doctorat soumise par un(e) membre de la SCÉC en lettres classiques, en histoire ancienne, en archéologie classique ou en philosophie antique et acceptée pour le doctorat dans une université du Canada.

Le prix est décerné tous les deux ans à l'assemblée générale de la Société pour la thèse la plus remarquable en lettres classiques, en histoire ancienne, en archéologie classique ou en philosophie antique écrite par un(e) membre en règle de la SCEC/CAC et acceptée pour le doctorat dans une université au Canada. Le cinquième prix sera attribué en mai 2021 au congrès annuel de la Société, à Victoria, pour la meilleure thèse acceptée au cours de la période allant du 1er juillet 2018 au 30 juin 2020. La valeur du prix sera de 500 $.

LES DÉPARTEMENTS DOIVENT ENVOYER LES CANDIDATURES À L'ATTENTION DE LA PRÉSIDENTE DU COMITÉ DE CE PRIX

la professeure Allison Glazebrook

aglazebrook@brocku.ca

au plus tard le 31 Décembre 2020

Chaque candidature doit comprendre les pièces suivantes:

1. une copie numérique de la thèse de doctorat en format PDF ;
2. une lettre officielle de la Faculté des études supérieures attestant que la thèse a été acceptée pour l'obtention du doctorat au cours de la période sous considération ;
3. une lettre de nomination du directeur du département ou du programme d'études supérieures, en expliquant les mérites spécifiques et l'originalité de la thèse.
Lorsqu'un département fait valoir plus d'une thèse, le directeur du département ou du programme d'études supérieures doit joindre une note explicative supplémentaire sur les mérites relatifs des diverses thèses mises en nomination.

Le comité de sélection est composé de cinq membres : la présidente sortante de la SCÉC/CAC (en tant que présidente du comité), un(e) autre membre du Conseil co-opté(e) par la présidente sortante, et trois membres à titre individuel de la Société.

University of Victoria
Three Year Limited Appointment, Greek Archaeology

From Tracy Sobotkiewicz

The Department of Greek and Roman Studies at the University of Victoria invites applications from talented scholars for a Limited Term Position at the rank of Assistant Professor commencing July 1, 2021 and concluding June 30, 2024. Qualified candidates will hold a PhD in ancient Greek archaeology.

The position requires active, high quality scholarship in Greek archaeology demonstrated by an established research program; the successful candidate will have a strong research pipeline including research targeted to high quality journals. The Department requires a candidate with a demonstrated record of securing external research funding. The position also requires active fieldwork and leadership roles in archaeological excavation, and the Department is particularly interested in a colleague who is engaged with the broader role of archaeology in cultural contexts.

The Department requires experience teaching courses in Greek art and archaeology, and particularly the ability to teach courses on the city of Athens, early Greece, and cultural contact in the ancient Mediterranean. The successful candidate will be expected to supervise undergraduate Honours theses. In addition, the position requires the ability or experience to participate in the Department's graduate program by teaching a graduate level survey in Greek archaeology and the supervision of graduate students.

Furthermore, engagement with issues of multiculturalism, diversity, class, gender, or imperialism and colonialism in Greek archaeology will be considered assets. Other assets for the position include experience leading or assisting in organizing studies abroad such as GRS 395: Classical Studies Abroad and/or GRS 495: Practicum in Archaeology and the ability to teach ancient Greek.

The position also requires engagement with the activities of the Department including willingness to serve on appropriate committees, professionalism and collegiality, and the demonstrated ability to work collaboratively in an academic unit. Additional assets would include the ability to serve as a role model and/or mentor for students and a track record addressing equity, diversity and inclusion.

Please send by e-mail a completed application package including a cover letter which addresses the full scope of the job requirements, along with your curriculum vitae, appropriate evidence of scholarship and research (two to five representative research publications and work in progress) and evidence of teaching skills which includes evidence of the ability to teach to a diverse student body with a range of perspectives, experiences and cultures and cultural sensitivity (a teaching dossier including statements, syllabi, evaluation data). In addition, please provide three confidential letters of reference addressing research, teaching and service strengths.

For full consideration, all materials must be submitted by December 1, 2020 to Dr. Ingrid Holmberg, Chair, at grschair@uvic.ca.

We acknowledge with respect the Songhees, Esquimalt and WSANEC peoples on whose traditional territory the university stands and whose historical relationships with the land continue to this day.

The University of Victoria is consistently ranked in the top tier of Canada's research-intensive universities. Vital impact drives the UVic sense of purpose.
