

SPACE FOR PERSONALITIES.

Since 1365.

The University of Vienna is internationally renowned for its excellence in teaching and research, and counts more than 7,500 academics from all disciplines. This breadth of expertise offers unique opportunities to address the complex challenges of modern society, to develop comprehensive new approaches, and educate the problem-solvers of tomorrow from a multidisciplinary perspective.

At the Faculty of Historical and Cultural Studies, the University of Vienna seeks to appoint a

Full Professor of Greek History, Antiquity and Epigraphy

The position:

The professorship covers the subject area of "Greek History" with a focus on "Greek Antiquity and Epigraphy". As a subfield of the subject "Ancient History", Greek History is part of the broader context of the history and cultures of the ancient Mediterranean and its neighbouring areas and is considered on a broad methodological and source basis (with a predominant emphasis on all genres of written sources). Applicants are expected to cover all areas of Greek History from the Late Bronze Age to the Roman imperial period as well as topics in Greek Antiquity and Epigraphy. In addition, a willingness to supervise BA and MA dissertations and PhD theses, to organize excursions, to acquire third-party funding projects, to promote young academics and to participate in research networks is required. A willingness to collaborate in research and teaching with colleagues within the faculty structure, to take on administrative roles, to participate in the key research areas of the faculty, and to participate in the "Vienna Doctoral School of Historical and Cultural Studies" is also expected.

Your academic profile:

- Doctoral degree/PhD
- Outstanding research achievements, excellent publication and funding record, international reputation
- Proven leadership qualities
- Gender and diversity competence
- Experience in designing and managing large research projects
- Enthusiasm for excellent teaching and supervision at the bachelor's, master's, and doctoral level
- Willingness to take on organisational and administrative responsibilities within the Faculty and/or the University

The University of Vienna expects the successful candidate to acquire, within three years, proficiency in German sufficient for teaching in bachelor's programmes and for participation in university committees.

We offer:

- a dynamic research environment
- a wide range of research and teaching support services
- attractive working conditions in a city with a high quality of life

- an attractive salary according to the Collective Bargaining Agreement for University Staff (§98 UG, level A1, to be negotiated individually) and an organisational retirement plan
- a “start-up package”, in particular for the initiation of research projects
- comprehensive relocation support
